Sun Yat-sen's Thoughts and the Guiding Spirit for Running a Newspaper

孫中山思想與辦報精神

by Dr. LEI Seng Chon

Former Director of the Macao Daily News
Awardee of the "Honourable Medal of Golden Lotus Flower"
Awardee of the "Grand Medal of Lotus Flower"
President of the Federation of Journalists in Macao
Member of the 8th and 9th National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CCPCC)

Dr. LEI Seng Chon was born in Xinhui County of Guangdong Province. He joined the Cantonese Anti-Japanese Guerrilla when young. He first worked for its Macao liaison point. He then followed the troops to Dongjiang Guerilla Column where he was the editor of the New Public Daily issued by the supervision department of the Canton-Kowloon Railway (Western Section). After the victory of the Anti-Japanese War, he returned to Macao and opened a bookstore selling patriotic books and newspapers. However, it was forced to close down by the authorities after about half a year in business. He then served as general manager of the Starlight Bookstore and the China Stationery Company successively.

In 1958, he co-founded the Macao Daily News with his friends, and held successively the titles of manager, vice-editor-in-chief, editor-in-chief, and director of the Newspaper. He is currently president of the board of directors of the Macao Daily News, the Macao Culture & Media Group, the Cinema Alegria and the Macau Cultural Plaza Ltd. He is also holding a number of other titles including: honorary member of the China Federation of Literary and Art Circles, member of the Chinese Writers' Association, board member of the China News Service (CNS), honorary president of the Federation of Journalists in Macao, the Pen of Macau and the Macao Friendship Association of Former Members of the National People's Congress and the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference, board member of the Zhongkai University of Agriculture and Engineering in Guangzhou, and honorary president of board of directors of the Macao Hou Kong Middle School.
